

Learn to Capture Visual Narratives that Speak Volumes at Avid Learning's Photojournalism Workshop

"In photography, there is a reality so subtle that it becomes more real than reality."

— American Photographer, Alfred Stieglitz

Since the advent of the American Civil War, photographs have accompanied news pieces with photojournalism entering its "golden age" with the arrival of smaller cameras like the 35 mm Leica in the 1920s. It provided them with a higher degree of mobility and reduced the restrictions of heavy equipment and stationary positions.

Photojournalism possesses a distinct advantage in its capacity to capture unfiltered and genuine moments, which sets it apart from other forms of journalism. It is through these unedited visuals that photojournalism conveys truth and honesty. Whether it's providing a glimpse of emotions during a protest, preserving the winning moment of your favorite sports team for eternity, or showcasing cultural diversity through travel, photojournalism tells vivid stories.

For Immediate Release

Avid Learning presents Capture Stories That Matter: A Photojournalism Workshop with Photographer Ritesh Uttamchandani where you will learn the art of visual storytelling and understand how to convey powerful narratives through your photographs. Ritesh will share his expertise and guide participants in capturing compelling moments that resonate with viewers and elicit emotional responses. The workshop will focus on both creative and technical details and introduce the ethics of photojournalism. The participants submitting their photographs will receive valuable critical feedback to hone their photographic style during the workshop.

Photography has been a crucial focus of Avid Learning's curatorial philosophy having presented workshops and programs exploring its different facets including - Street, Digital Fashion, Mobile, Architectural, and Photobooks & Archiving in the past. This Photojournalism Workshop will add a new dimension to this dynamic form and develop a deeper appreciation for the power of images.

Calling all aspiring photojournalists and enthusiasts to learn to capture photos that make a difference.
